Dining - Latin Quarter

Chez Gladines

30 RUE DES CINQ DIAMANTS - TEL: +33 1 45 80 70 10 - RESTAURANT

Chez Gladines is famous for its Basque cuisine, found in the southwestern part of France. The restaurant is now so well-known, it has five locations in Paris. A highlight of Chez Gladine's menu is duck confit, served with delicious potatoes.

but get there early!

Les Fêtes Galantes

17 RUE DE L'ÉCOLE POLYTECHNIQUE - +33 1 43 26 10 40 - RESTAURANT

Don't expect elegance when you walk into Les Fetes Galantes. However, the hole-in-the wall restaurant does feature, fresh French cooking and terrific service. The walls are jam-packed with photos of satisfied customers and even the bras (yes, bras) of some women who celebrated their bachelorette parties here.

The restaurant is ideal to enjoy with close friends or family and offers great fixed menu options.

PRICE:

a must!

Le Resto

8 RUE TOURNEFORT - +33 01 43 37 10 66 - RESTAURANT

The atmosphere of this restaurant is amazing, from friendly servers to the ancient wooden beams decorating the ceilings. It costs a little more to eat here, but you're guaranteed quality food.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

Dining - Saint-Germain-des-Prés

Roger La Grenouille

28 RUE DES GRANDS AUGUSTINS - TEL: +33 1 56 24 24 34 - RESTAURANT

If you want to try frog legs on your trip to Paris, eat at Roger La Grenouille (literally "Roger the frog"). While in a touristy part of the city, the restaurant retains its authenticity by serving quality French food, including frog legs served in a classic butter and parsley sauce. Picasso once lived on the street the restaurant is located on, so make sure to take an after-dinner stroll to soak in the neighborhood ambiance.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

12:30 pm - 2:30 pm

Boucherie Roulière

24 RUE DES CANNETTES - +33 01 43 26 25 70 - RESTAURANT

Owned and operated by a fifth-generation butcher, this restaurant is the best place to go if you want to try French meat. But remember, the French usually like their meat very rare, so make sure to specify how you want your food cooked when you go.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

7 pm - 11:30 pm

RSVP:
recommended for large groups or weekends

L'Îlot

4 RUE DE LA CORDERIE - +33 06 95 12 86 61 - RESTAURANT

This place was created with two things in mind: seafood and wine. Seafood is popular in France (did you know that raw oysters are a popular Christmas dish here?), so don't write off this small restaurant as non-French food. It only seats about 20 people and provides a charming and cozy atmosphere.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

Le Quincampe

78 RUE QUINCAMPOIX - +33 01 40 27 01 45 - RESTAURANT

Le Quincampe is a true locals spot tucked down a quiet street in Paris. Their menu is only in French, but don't let that discourage you - most of the employees speak English. The menu changes depending on what's in season, so ask for your server's recommendation.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

Vins Des Pyrénées

25 RUE BEAUTREILLIS - +33 01 42 72 64 94 - RESTAURANT

Vin des Pyrénées is a long-standing Marais restaurant that went through a total makeover in 2017. The brasserie has maintained its old-school feel and is quickly making a new name for itself with twists on classic French fare. For example, their "croque-monsieur" sandwich with truffle gouda cheese is delicious. Yum! Plus, back in the day, people like French poet Baudelaire and American musician Jim Morrison used to eat here.

PRICE:

good idea for weekends

La Mandigotte

68 RUE LEPIC - +33 01 42 59 34 26 - RESTAURANT

Delicious French classics like duck confit, beef bourguignon and lamb shanks are served up in this cozy restaurant. It only seats about 20 people, so you might want to come early, but the generous portion sizes and modest Paris pricing is outstanding.

PRICE:

Terrass'' Restaurant & Bar

12-14 RUE JOSEPH DE MAISTRE - +33 01 46 06 72 85 - BAR / RESTAURANT

Rooftop bars are somewhat rare in Paris, but the Le Terrass' Hotel Bar is a good one. When in the Montmartre neighborhood, we recommend going up the seven floors to this hotel bar. It offers a large creative cocktail list (along with standard wine and hard alcohol options). Who doesn't want to sip on good drink while overlooking Paris and the Eiffel Tower?!

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

3:30 pm - 12:30 pm

RSVP:
not necessary for the bar

Le Cabanon de la Butte

6 RUE LAMARCK - +33 1 42 57 20 46 - RESTAURANT

You'll have to go a few extra steps to get to this restaurant located at the top of Montmartre, which features one of the best views of Paris. Try their boeuf bourguignon and relax with the locals!

Le Petit Marcel

65 RUE RAMBUTEAU (NEAR LE MARAIS) - +33 01 48 87 10 20 - BISTRO

Le Petit Marcel is about as Parisian as it gets. The small café serves up simple, French dishes in an authentic brasserie atmosphere. The tables are usually placed pretty tightly together and it can get a little noisy. This is probably not the best choice for an intimate dinner. However, the ambience is charming and lively. They also serve a delicious breakfast if you want to stop by early in the day.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

Les Marches

5 RUE DE LA MANUTENTION (NEAR THE EIFFEL TOWER) - +33 01 47 23 52 80 - BISTRO

It's not easy to find a non-touristy restaurant close to the Eiffel Tower, but we've done it. This is a typical French brasserie, with checkered tablecloths and all. Their menu changes regularly, but you can't go wrong getting a bistro favorite, like "steak frites" (steak and fries) or a good salad.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

Rosa Bonheur sur Seine

37 QUAI D'ORSAY (ALONG THE RIVER BANK OF THE SEINE) - +33 01 47 53 66 92 - BAR/SMALL BITES

It doesn't get any better than sipping a glass of wine at Rosa Bonheur sur Seine, a bar that's actually a barge docked near the beautiful Alexandre III bridge. At night the bar turns into a lively place with loud music and dancing. If you aren't a party animal, make sure you go early and grab drinks and charcuterie plates. You won't regret the view.

Le Baron Rouge

1 RUE THÉOPHILE ROUSSEL (CLOSE TO LA BASTILLE) - +33 01 43 43 14 32 - WINE BAR/SMALL BITES

Ask any Parisian, and they've probably heard of Le Baron Rouge. This is the ultimate casual spot for locals to sip on wine. During wintertime, they are renowned for their oyster selection. If you're not there during winter, order some cheese and charcuterie plates to accompany your wine. Plus, this place is right next to the Marché d'Aligre, one of the most famous outdoor markets in Paris.

PRICE:

AMBIANCE:

Bar Etna

33 RUE MAZARINE (SAINT-GERMAIN-DES-PRÉS) - +33 01 46 34 84 52 - WINE BAR

Bar Etna proudly serves natural wines, which are making their way into the French market. Feel extra cool sipping a glass of wine in this dimly lit and classy bar.

They even offer a champagne and chocolate pairing option

- it doesn't get much better than that.

PRICE:

Au P'tit Grec

68 RUE MOUFFETARD (LATIN QUARTER) - +33 01 46 06 72 85 - CRÊPERIE

Locals flock to this small crepe stand on busy Rue Mouffetard (home to a great local outdoor market) and you should too.

Don't be scared away by a long line - the crepes don't take long to make.

Pick your favorite sweet or savory item off the menu and enjoy it as you stroll down the street, like the French do.

PRICE:

La Petite Bretonne

48 RUE MOUFFETARD (LATIN QUARTER) - +33 01 43 31 45 15 - CRÊPERIE

Sometimes it's difficult to tell one crêperie apart from another.

We've done the work for you by recommending La Petite Bretonne.

Located in the Latin Quarter, this small establishment serves up both sweet and savory crêpes at affordable prices. Make sure you order some cider to go along with your crêpe.
